CLERK LAKE CIRCUIT COURT

4. Defendant knowingly violated Ind. Code § 24-5-0.5-3(a)(7) by misrepresenting that it had a sponsorship or affiliation with entities that it did not have.

5. Defendant knowingly violated Ind. Code § 24-5-0.5-10(b) by soliciting consumers to enter into contracts or agreements in which the price was unduly excessive and in which there was unequal bargaining power that led the consumers to enter into the contracts without knowledge of the terms of the contracts or agreements.

6. Defendant committed the acts identified in numbered paragraphs 2 through 5 above as part of a scheme to intentionally deceive and defraud Indiana consumers. Defendant committed incurable deceptive acts and fraud against Indiana consumers.

IT IS ORDERED, ADJUDGED, AND DECREED that:

A. Defendant is permanently enjoined from:

1. Soliciting the sale of, or selling, any travel-related product or service to anyone;
2. Violating Ind. Code § 24-5-0.5-3(a)(1), including representing that the subject of any consumer transaction has sponsorship, approval, performance, characteristics, accessories, uses, or benefits it does not have;
3. Violating Ind. Code § 24-5-0.5-3(a)(7), including representing that it has a sponsorship, approval, or affiliation in any consumer transaction it does not have;
4. Violating Ind. Code § 24-5-0.5-10, including soliciting a person to enter into any contract or agreement in which the price is unduly excessive and in which there is unequal bargaining power that leads the person to enter into the contract or agreement unwillingly or without knowledge of the terms of the contract or agreement; and
5. Violating any other provision of Indiana's Deceptive Consumer Sales Act, Ind. Code Ch. 24-5-0.5.

B. The injunctions in paragraph A apply to Defendant, to businesses controlled by Defendant, to businesses in which Defendant has an ownership interest, and to Defendant's successors and assigns.

So ordered this 15 day of March, 2006
